Jasper County REMC encourages you to tell your rural broadband story

A Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

Many legislators in Indiana, and across the country, have urban and metropolitan experiences. These folks have no idea of the internet challenges that rural homes, students, schools, medical facilities and businesses face on a daily basis. YOUR story will help rural electric cooperatives send a clear message to legislators that rural areas should have the same internet options as urban and metropolitan communities. Rural internet options will not happen without rural voices.

The meetings will be held in locations throughout Jasper County. The first round of meeting dates are as follows:

“These will be a great way to hear from the community and to gain the momentum to keep improving Jasper County.” Executive Director, Stephen Eastridge, said when asked about the workshops. “Our goal is to work with community members and make sure they understand who we are in the JCEDO office, what kind of things we work on, and that we are available to try and answer questions whenever possible”

For more information, please contact the JCEDO office at (219) 866-3080, Fax (219) 866-3010.
